A Year of Love

Last month I had the privilege of spending a week with Sharon Daloz Parks learning about adaptive leadership in a time of massive upheaval. I am so thankful for the UCC Next Generation Leadership Initiative and for this congregation's support of my participation in it. You can learn more about what we learned if you check out my sermon "The Hot Potato of Leadership" (delivered via Facebook Live on Jan. 15). If you missed it, the manuscript is available online. As we talked about leading through difficult periods of history, I felt myself becoming more solidified in an idea I had been noodling on recently:

What if 2017 could be A Year of Love for First Congregational?

This idea has been haunting me for months now. I've continued to push it to the side because it seems to ambiguous and un-formed. I am well-aware that love is one of those concepts that is thrown about so casually it starts to lose meaning. I wasn't quite sure how to package, explain, implement a "year of love." [continued pg. 2]

And still....the idea wouldn't leave me. Every time I started to pray - there it was again. Relentless. So finally I said, "Okay, God. I get it. Love. You want us to ponder and act on LOVE."

I hate to tell you this part: I'm still not entirely sure what this is going to look like. But I've learned by now to trust the Spirit's whisperings. And I've learned that when she's THIS insistent, I need to stop trying to plan it all and just hold on for the ride.

A funny thing happened when I sat down to prepare for worship during Martin Luther King weekend. As I started to work on the sermon, one thing led to another and I quickly discovered that it wasn't going to fit into one week. Instead, the things Dr. King has to teach us about love needed more space. So that is our first stop on this journey of love: this four-week series on what Dr. King called "the most durable power."

I'm hoping Dr. King's wisdom will help us center for the work ahead. I know I am forever grateful to him for his insistence on pulling apart the different types of love in Greek (philio, eros, agape). The love that Jesus commands us to is agape, which Dr. King defines as an unconditional love for every person. Now if you're like me, you're probably thinking, "Woah, there, pastor. Unconditional love for EVERY person? You've got to be kidding." Well, Dr. King wasn't. And it doesn't seem that Jesus was, either, I'm sorry to report.

This is where I've also found the work of bell hooks in All About Love to be immensely helpful (shout out to Tai Amri for recently recommending this book to me). hooks notes that love is often defined as a feeling, an affection for others. But she reminds us that love is actually about actions and behavior. It's not about whether we like someone or how we feel at all. Rather, she borrowed the language of M. Scott Peck and defines love as “the will to extend one's self for the purpose of nurturing one's own or another's spiritual growth.” And that is something that can be done even in the absence of affection.

It seems to me that one of the things this world desperately needs right now is people who are willing to extend themselves for the purpose of nurturing each other. As my friend and colleague the Rev. Lori Walke likes to say, that means “Every. Single. Other.” I know this work isn’t easy. Friends, to be totally honest, I’m still a little annoyed that the Spirit won’t leave me alone about this.

But I am awfully glad that if I am called to go on this journey of exploring “A Year of Love,” I am called to go on it with you. I trust that goodness and new life and growth is in store for us as we journey together.

Pastor Caela

Spirit of MLK Community Service Award

With thanksgiving for her ministry among us, we congratulate Rev. Caela Simmons Wood as a co-recipient of the 2016-2017 Spirit of Martin Luther King Jr. Community Service Award. The Manhattan Martin Luther King Jr. Memorial Celebration Committee recognized Caela at their MLK Community Celebration on January 22. Recipients of this award are recognized for their demonstrated service in “uniting the diversity of our community for the greater good” and for their “long-term commitment to bringing people together in a non-polarizing manner.” Thank you for your passion and commitment to social justice in our community, Caela!

The Most Durable Power: MLK Teaches Love Sermon Series (Jan. 22 - Feb. 12)

"All you need is love..." ....and Jesus, and Martin Luther King, and a holy space to grapple with the absurdities of loving in the midst of evil. Love is not just about Hallmark cards and flowers and roses. MLK asked us to go deep into agape - a type of love that is not dependent on liking one another but is, instead, rooted in seeing each other through God's eyes and seeking to be faithful to God's relentless call to DO LOVE (even if we don't feel love). Join us for this four-week series that will use the first chapter of 1 Corinthians as a jumping off point, tossing us sixty years in the past as we hear and reflect on what truths Dr. King's words have for us as people of faith today.

Many thanks to all who serve on our boards and committees! The above photo was taken at our recent Leadership Kick Off, held on Jan. 11.

From your Ministry Intern, Sean Weston

I'm now a few weeks into serving as your ministry intern. Since returning to Manhattan in mid-December, I've enjoyed reconnecting with the congregation and meeting some of the many new faces. Now that my internship has gotten off the ground, I'd like to let you know what I'll be up to:

- Teaching two Bible 101 classes this month (see more info in this newsletter)
- Participating in worship and adult education classes
- Participating in most Cabinet, Board and Committee meetings
- Teaching an adult education class in mid-April to mid-May (if you have any topic ideas, let me know!)
- Meeting weekly with Pastor Caela for reflection
- Participating in some Kid's Worship, Sunday School, and Youth events
- Preaching on February 19.
- Meetings with church members and friends to help Pastor Caela and Sue assess future directions for the adult education ministry of the church.
- Sharing observations and questions about church life with Pastor Caela and lay leaders
- Possibly organizing a gathering of young adults
- Possibly offering one or two workshops on telling your faith story

This is an unpaid internship for 8-10 hours per week, supervised by Pastor Caela. The internship is an opportunity for me to learn by observing and participating in many aspects of the church's life. This isn't a typical project-based internship, and I will not provide regular worship leadership. One reason for this is that the internship is a seminary requirement with particular expectations from the seminary. Another is that I've served as a part-time church pastor so I already have good experience, especially with worship, preaching, and pastoral care. Of course, if you have other ideas for other ways I could spend my time please feel free to talk to Pastor Caela.

If we haven't met, please come up and introduce yourself. This congregation is where I first grew into faith, and I'm thrilled that I get to walk with you as we all seek to follow Jesus together.

Peace,

Sean

Welcome Sue Zschoche

We welcome Sue Zschoche as our Pastoral Associate! At a meeting of the congregation on Jan. 22, we voted to call Sue into this new role. Sue will be serving in a part-time, volunteer capacity as a part of our staff. She will take on a regular leadership role in worship and is in the early stages of becoming an authorized minister in the United Church of Christ. Sue will also be working with the Board of Christian Education in a leadership role with our adult education ministries. If you've not already met Sue, we hope you'll introduce yourself. We are so thankful for the gifts she brings to this new role.

Confirmation Classes Begin

On February 12th, Pastor Caela and Tai Amri will begin meeting regularly with three of our youth for Confirmation. In our tradition, Confirmation serves several functions: 1) it is an important coming of age ritual for teenagers who are beginning to cross the threshold into adulthood, 2) it is an opportunity for our youth to decide whether they would like to become members of our church (and, therefore, get to vote on important issues in the life of our congregation, 3) it is another chance for our congregation to remind these youth that they are beloved children of God and an important part of the Body of Christ. Please hold Dean Kinderknecht, Nadiyah Gamble, and Tahjai Gamble in your prayers in the coming months as they walk this journey. The youth will be meeting immediately after worship on Sundays from now until the end of April. If you are able to provide a simple lunch for the Confirmation Class, please contact Tai Amri (youth@uccmanhattan.org). Confirmation Sunday will be April 30.

The Ministry of Care Team invites your Help in Ministering to Those who are Grieving

As many of you know, two years ago Pastor Caela and the Deacons invited some of us in the church to participate in a ministry of outreach to members of our congregation who for various reasons were unable to come to church on a regular basis. We have enjoyed our visits and our contacts with our fellow parishioners, and have decided to expand our roles as co-ministers of care to those who are grieving losses of their loved ones. With the approval of the Deacons, we have decided to purchase sets of booklets by Kenneth Haugk, a pastor and psychologist associated with the well-known Stephen Ministry program. There are four booklets in the series, which will be given throughout the first year to parishioners and friends who are grieving. The Care Team members will reach out to individuals in need, and personally visit them and give them the booklets.

Speaking both as an individual on the Care Team and one grieving the recent death of my father Robert Towner, I found the first visit and the first booklet very helpful; I recently shared my copy with my stepmother Lucille, who is also appreciating it very much.

The Care Team needs the help of the congregation: if you learn that someone in our congregation has lost a loved one and might benefit from this ministry, please let us know by contacting the church office, Pastor Caela, or a member of the Care Team: Dona

Sidorfsky, Elaine De Smedt, Carolyn Hodgson, Jim Hodgson, Andrea Chamberlain, Jean Hill, Gayle Doll, Martha Miller, or Gretchen Lewis. If you wish to order the booklets for yourself (or to give to a friend), you can also do that through the church office.

Adult Education Opportunities

Our current Sunday morning class Understanding White Identity: A Transformational Dialogue began on Jan. 22 and continues through Feb. 26. Due to the nature of the material, this is not a “drop in” class, but if you haven’t been attending we welcome you to learn more about it on our website at uccmanahttan.org/adult-education or talk to the class facilitators, Kerri Keller and Andrew Wymer.

Next up...our Lenten Study of Accidental Saints: Finding God in All the Wrong People. Our study of this book by ELCA pastor, the Rev. Nadia Bolz-Weber will be led by Craig Weston. We gather March 5 through April 2 (five weeks) at 9:30am to explore this New York Times bestselling author's newest book, where she invites readers to accompany her on what she calls her "religious but not-so-spiritual" life. From the publisher: "Tattooed, angry, and profane, this former standup comic turned pastor stubbornly, sometimes hilariously, resists the God she feels called to serve. But God keeps showing up in the least likely of people—a church-loving agnostic, a drag queen, a felonious Bishop, and a gun-toting member of the NRA." If you'd like the church office to order you a copy of the book, please let us know by Monday, Feb. 27th.

Bible 101

Do your eyes glaze over when you hear Bible stuff? The Bible can be very overwhelming, whether you’re new to faith or a long-time church person. For those who want to know more about the Bible but have no idea where to start, Sean Weston will be offering two “Bible 101” classes in February. We’ll discuss what the Bible is (and isn’t), how to find your way around, who some key people are, and some big ideas you might find there. Sunday, February 5th from 12:15-1:15pm after worship in Andover Hall with a light lunch, or Friday, February 27th from 7-8pm at the Bluestem Bistro meeting room. The class content will be the same each time, so choose the time that works best for you.

Lent is Around the Corner

More details will be available in the March newsletter, but please do begin to make space in your schedule for this holy season of preparation for Easter. Don't know what Lent is? You're not alone! Lent is the 40 days preceding Easter and is a time when Christians traditionally cultivate their faith in more intensive ways. For some this may include giving something up or adding in a new spiritual practice. As a gathered community, we always include additional focused opportunities for worship and communal prayer. The tentative calendar includes the following:

Ash Wednesday, March 1

Ash Wednesday worship, evening

Sundays beginning March 5

Accidental Saints Book Study, 9:30am

“External Rotation” Sermon Series, 10:45am

Wednesdays, beginning March 8

Community Lenten Luncheons, Noon (1st Presbyterian Church)

Palm Sunday, April 9

Palm Processional on Poyntz, 9:30am (City Park)

Maundy Thursday, April 13

Maundy Thursday Meal & Worship, evening

Good Friday, April 14

Good Friday w/ First Christian & Bethel, likely mid-day

Holy Saturday, April 15

Easter Sunday, April 16

Potluck Breakfast, 9:30am

Festival Worship, 10:45am

The Vitality and Outreach Committee offers these opportunities to engage with the larger community as people of faith.

K-State Black History Month Keynote: Angela Davis "Institutional Racism in the Penal & Criminal Justice System" Wednesday, Feb. 1 at 7:30pm, Union Grand Ballroom

Angela Davis is an internationally respected political activist, academic scholar and author. Her life's work has always emphasized the importance of building communities of struggle for economic, racial and gender justice. She is the author of nine books, including Angela Davis: An Autobiography; Blues Legacies and Black Feminism; Are Prisons Obsolete?; and Women, Culture and Politics. Like many educators, Professor Angela Davis is especially concerned with the general tendency to devote more resources and attention to the prison system than to educational institutions. Having helped to popularize the notion of a “prison industrial complex,” she now urges her audiences to think seriously about the future possibility of a world without prisons and to help forge a 21st-century abolitionist movement.

#BlackLivesMatter Co-Founder Janaya Khan Hosted by the K-State Gender Collective Thurs., Feb. 9 at 7pm, 257 Staley School of Leadership Studies

With a timely message about the transformational power of protest, Janaya Khan is a leading activist who engages you in a profound discussion about social justice and equality. Known as ‘Future’ within the Black Lives Matter movement, Janaya is a black, queer, gender-nonconforming activist (pronouns: they, them, theirs), staunch Afrofuturist and social-justice educator who presents an enlightening point of view on police brutality and systemic racism.

Stand with Muslim Neighbors Week, February 14-20

Kansas Interfaith Action is encouraging congregations to participate in a week of solidarity and friendship with Muslims in their community and in our state. There are a number of suggested activities that individuals, small groups, and whole congregations can do and the Vitality committee will be with others in UCC and the community on plans. Tuesday, February 21, will be Stand With Muslim Neighbors Advocacy Day at the state capitol.

ECM Notebook

Ecumenical Campus Ministry is a cooperative ministry at K-State supported by the Presbyterian Church (USA), the United Church of Christ, and the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ). www.ksu.edu/ecm

In the Fall 2010, Ecumenical Campus Ministry began a collaboration with K-State's other ECM—the St. Canterbury Episcopal Campus Ministry—to offer students and young adults an opportunity to meet, in the tradition of Jesus, “on their turf” to discuss theological questions and matters of faith important to them. Originally, this outreach ministry was called Theology on Tap—until we realized that the Catholics had copyrighted that phrase! Ever since, this activity has been known as Brewing on Belief. Each Wednesday evening at 8:30 p.m. one of the student leaders, alternating weekly between the two ECM's, introduces a topic and guides the discussion, while participants enjoy their favorite beverage, ranging from water to wine. This intergenerational group currently meets in the conference room at Bluestem Bistro, and all are welcome.

Mission Statement

The Mission of First Congregational United Church of Christ is

- To love and accept others unconditionally as God loves and accepts us, and by example, to encourage others to do the same.
- To challenge ourselves to grow spiritually through worship, education, nurture, reflection, discussion, fellowship, and outreach.
- To minister to others locally, nationally, and globally with the same fervor as we minister to ourselves, through the sharing of our talents, gifts, and resources.

We hold ourselves accountable before God for this mission

Cobb Corner — Going Green

Any green New Year's Resolutions still surviving? Please let me know. Joy Schell has a great idea. She's calling or emailing unwanted catalog companies to get off mailing lists. This way she saves trees, money for companies involved, trash and even time and exposure to impulse purchases.

Her suggestion reminded me that we can save money and trash by swapping magazines, newspapers and even grocery coupons. We share magazines with a friend who saves us the Sunday New York Times. Other magazines are shared with friends, the Senior Center, KSU Rec. Center and doctors' offices. A neighborhood teenager enjoys my animal-themed magazines.

Last week the New York Times reported that 16 of the last 17 years have set global heat records and in another issue that Americans throw out over 1690 pounds of trash annually, not including food waste. Those statistics are not unrelated.

I asked Bill if he knew where the term "waste not, want not," came from. He checked the internet and discovered in the American Heritage Dictionary of American Idioms (who knew?) that it dates back to 1722 and "willful waste makes woeful want" to 1576! Clearly waste is not a new problem!

We need to act on such pithy advice. One way to celebrate Valentine's Day, February 14, is to bring unneeded animal-related items – bowls, carriers, collars, towels, bathmats, leashes, Purina food and toys – to the church during the week before. Please leave donations in hallway coat rack area.

Unneeded household items and clothes are welcomed six days a week, 1:00-4:00, at the nearby Encore Shop of St. Paul's Episcopal Church. We may not know how to make a few loaves and fishes serve multitudes but we may still seek to make a difference for others.

Dinner & Decorating February 11, 4:30-8:00 p.m.

The Vitality Committee is ushering in the “year of love” addressed in Pastor Caela’s MLK sermon series with a Dinner and Decorating event in the month of love – February. On Saturday, February 11, at 4:30 in Pioneer and Blachly halls, we’ll have materials to make valentines, decorations, appreciation cards, and more for friends, family, and anybody to whom you want to send a message of love. The Ministry of the Decorative Scissors will provide materials and ideas, but feel free to bring more to share. We’ll also have heart cookies to decorate (and eat). Supper will be pizza and salad. Come and bring a carload for an intergenerational evening of fun, food, and LOVE.

The Second Helping

Our Second Helping ministry continues to be a wonderful way in which our church extends its mission to the community of Manhattan. We regularly serve 25-35 people each week. Many of you have helped with this mission in a variety of ways, and that is much appreciated!

Currently we are hoping to add some more volunteers to our list of "regulars." We are particularly in need of individuals who would be willing to serve as Head Cook and Church Host. If you are interested in learning more about either of these positions, or volunteering in other ways, please contact Ann Smit.
